

A Knock at the Door

Have you ever heard loud knocks while you are sleeping or even while awake? Some of the Most High's children have had this happen to them. What could it be?

The knock on the door.

Have you heard it?

Has it awakened you?

Could it be on the door of your heart?

Is a door in your heart closed?

Ask yourself this question.

My heart knocks on your heart.

A knock says, "I am here at your door. I am seeking you."

He is seeking to enter the door of your heart that is still closed.

Seek your own self, and ask His Spirit to show you this door.

There are many doors just like there are chambers.

He wants full access to all.

And when you open the door, He comes in and abides; He does not leave.

When you hear this knock, how do you respond?

With child-like anxiety or a lazy thought?

Do you know that it is Him?

Don't you remember that He said He would knock, and if you open the door, He would come in and sup with you?

It is He who knocks.

The One who holds the very key to your heart.

You belong to Him; He has the key.

He does not use the key, because He desires your surrender.

The knock requests your surrender.

In His mercy and grace, He knocks.

In His sovereignty, He knocks.

Will you answer Him with your child-like surrender?

You must answer before He can come in.

Next time you hear the knock, know that it is Him.

If you love Him, open the door.

Allow Him to come in.

Heed the knock, for it is truly Him.

What about our hearts?

Obedience begins in the heart.

Is there a door closed that keeps you from total obedience?

Is there a physical need more important than obeying Him?

Is there a person more important?

Ask His spirit to show you.

If there is anything at all, no matter how small, it is a closed door in your heart.

He will knock and request your surrender.

He will also give you the strength to do so.

Ask Him, and you shall have what you ask.

But first, hear His knock and open the door.
